Coach

Appearance

Personality

- Endlessly positive, Coach is a positive force in every scenario they find themselves in.
- Coach is personable and has a group of very close friends. However, coach is likely to stay at an arms length from those they don’t know well. They understand how to keep work and life separate.

Background

- Coach didn’t start Rec Room… but back in 1987 they were one of the first employees and quickly rose through the ranks.
- Coach was born and raised in Australia (hence the accent) but they see themselves as a citizen of the world. They are well traveled and have visited more than 80 countries and is conversationally proficient in countless languages.

Relationships

Trivia

- Coach is the "owner" of Rec Room from a in-universe point of view. They're the voice that speaks to you in the tutorial, in UGC rooms, etc. They own the RecCenter and RRO activities.
- The voice that speaks to you being Coach is canon.
- Their appearance is not known. In ^Crescendo, there is a self-portrait of Coach with the face deliberately obscured, but some people have this avatar in mind as Coach's appearance because back in 2019, a hacker account spoofed as Coach and this is the avatar they had on. Ever since then, people have ran with it.
